TRIVIA

THINGYMAHJIG

Geek Fun Fact: CCleaner was once called 'Crap Cleaner.' Given that its developer, 'Piriform,' is British, it makes sense.

Fun Fact: Data recovery is easier on standard hard drives because deleted data isn't actually removed, just marked for overwrite. In contrast, SSDs actively write to empty blocks for clean-up purposes, making data recovery many times harder if not impossible.

TOP STORY

NOT TO BE CONFUSED WITH TOY STORY..

A Data loss Fiasco

As well as making YouTube videos, and playing The Sims, one of my other past times involves tinkering with Software and experimenting. Recently, after watching a tutorial on an alternate method of duelbooting multiple versions of Windows on my PC, I tried it out myself and managed to almost permanently erase years worth of digital stuff. Files including personal photos, concurrent projects, my channels graphics and more.

I can safely say I managed to get a majority of my content back, using a program called 'Recuva', a data recovery program from the same devs behind the optimiser software suite, CCleaner, a company called Piriform Software.

Thank You to those of you showed concern to check up on me during this mess. At least a couple of people were worried I was hacked, so I do apologise to those who were also alarmed. Now that this is over, I am still in the process of reorganising the recovered content, while planning new ideas and content.

IN OTHER NEWS

YES THERE IS MORE

NEW WEBSITE & SOCIALS!! I now have a website. Its called Ricky's Warren! Hosted on a platform called Neocities, a throwback to a similarly named platform that pre-existed the modern internet, where people could host their own custom websites. Ricky's Warren is a digital hub for my interests. Explore tools, facts, tutorials, and important emotional support resources. Also, discover information about my YouTube channels.

I am also on BlueSky, a new social media website that is similar to Twitter, down to the fact it is developed by former Twitter staff. In the wake of the drama happening on the former site, I plan to be more active there. you can catch me here @itsrickyschannel.bsky.social

PLANS FOR THE MONTH

PREVIEW TO MY EVIL DEEDS

Its nearing Christmas, and my want to create content is quite high, so here are some plans I have for content.

LIVE

Playing Sky Gamestar
A continuation of the series on my second channel where I explore a bunch of old games originally made for an interactive television service called Sky Gamestar, a service that shut in 2015. Learn more via my website

JUMP IN!

garrys mod

Jump-IN: Garrys Mod
A new episode of the my Garrys Mod series is current in the works. So that is one more episode to end off the year.

ANIM

New animations!
(POSSIBLY)

INDIE GAMES

Indie Games -
I have a list of short indie games (mostly horror) that waiting to be played. Horror at Christmas? YES!

Wishing you a Merry Christmas
